

For a long time I suspected that my hearing was deteriorating. My family encouraged me to have a hearing test, commenting that in group situations I appeared unaware of conversations and often looked isolated. I chose to have a test done with Tauranga Audiology on recommendations and because it is a local business. After a free test my hearing loss was explained to me, and the costs and discounts available. Hearing aids were fitted for a free trial and the change was dramatic. I now have confidence in taking part in conversations and continue under the excellent care of Tauranga Audiology.
