Dear Sir

I wish to pay thanks to you and your staff for providing me with such a highly satisfying solution to my hearing problems.

Having decided that my lifelong handicap required a fresh review. I took advice from the local hard of hearing community who helped me to find a company that could provide a honest, independent assessment of my needs and the expertise to identify the most suitable aids.

My hearing range is somewhat limited, but despite this I have been provided with aids that maximise my remaining attributes and have given me a range of hearing improvement far beyond my expectations.

Thanks to your ability to identify and define my needs, I have now been given a substantial improvement to my quality of life.

I am now able to handle telephone calls with confidence and am able listen to TV and music better than ever before.

The very reasonable cost of these aids also proves that the more money spent does not necessarily provide better hearing.

Many thanks again
